New Lyric.

New Lyric.

The incomparable Dolly sisters, the toasts of Broadway, who are the twinstars in the colorini and melodicus musical comedy, "Oh Look," are said in this merry play to be possessed of a flaming spirit of joy. Their energy displayed in "Oh Look" seems to be inexhaustible, and the critics describe the Dollys as having the grave of wild young things of the forest.

The Dolly sisters will be presented here by F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest at the Lyric theater for a two nights and Saturday matine engagement, beginning Friday night.

The excellent book is by Jamos Montigomers, and is said to be amusing with fix quips and retort, while additional humorous ernamentations from the poin and farcies of Joseph Met arrity will be found in the lyrics. The music, by Harry Carcoll, has a fascinating govery, tinged with a delightal sentiment. The Polity histers are supported by a company of 51 associate mitters, who, the critics say, are quite remarkable for the talent displayed. The exquisite beauty of the young girls of the on-semble make them exceptionally charming and pleasing. ing and pleasing.
